

Educational Programme	International Relations and European Studies
Degree Awarded	Bachelor
Standard Length of Studies (Number of ECTS Credits)	3 years - 6 semesters - 180 ECTS
Type of Study	Full-time
Higher Education Institution	Babeş-Bolyai University
Faculty / Department	Faculty of European Studies
Contact Person	Professor, PhD Nicolae Păun
Phone	+40 264 593770
Fax	+40 264 590251
E-mail	npaun@euro.ubbcluj.ro
Profile of the Degree Programme	Bachelor in International Relations and European Studies
Target Group / Addressees	Applicants interested in developing a career in the area of International Relations and European Studies.
Entrance Conditions	A compulsory entry requirement for each applicant is an English language certificate, which must be attached to the application form. Entry requirements: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Baccalaureate grade - meaning 20% of the admittance score; 2. High school graduation mark - meaning 40% of the admittance score; 3. Year grade for the following high school courses: History, Philosophy, Economics (if some courses were studied for more than one year, the applicant must pick the grade of a single year) Or the grade of an optional course from the area of the European Studies (History of Europe, European Idea, Philosophy of the European Unification, History of the European Economy, European Political Structures, Communitarian Diplomacy, Knowledge about the European Union, Human Rights, Basics of European Union Law, The Economics of Transition, Economic and Regional Geography, European Integration, History of International Relations, Theories of European Integration, European Literature and Civilization, etc.), as the applicants wishes, also 40% of the admittance score.
Further Education Possibilities	Master Programme European Affairs and Project Cycle Management
Description of Study	The International Relations and European Studies programme prepares specialists of high level for European affairs, “eurocrats” with an expertise in international relations. To achieve the goals of the study programme an inter-, multi- and trans- disciplinary approach is followed. As a result the subjects in which students are prepared overarching, tackling in the same time international relations (history of international relations, political sciences, European institutions, public policies, political parties etc.), social sciences research (European cultural space, structures and the social framework in Europe), political sciences, international organisation, globalisation, community politics, governance in the European Union adding disciplines from the economical area – basic notions, principles, processes and methods of quantitative sciences, management, marketing, etc.

Purposes of the Programme	The main objective of this BA program is the formation of specialists of the processes of European integration and international negotiation from a rather modern and interdisciplinary perspective, by combining various approaches from political science, modern history, world economy, philosophy and cultural studies. This program aims to develop the skills and competencies of our students in international relations.
Specialization / Area of Expertise	The study programme aims to form specialists in the field of international relations and european studies, skillfull in managing related activities in the study subject, able to carry out analysis and providing expertise on todays issues in international relations and european comunity processes, european constitutions and jurisprudence, in the area of human rights, culture and european values.
Extra Peculiarities	For this BA program, our Department has settled a close collaboration with the Otto von Guericke University of Magdeburg, Germany (http://www.uni-magdeburg.de/en/home-p-1.html), as well as with other universities, especially within the framework of the Erasmus program (http://euro.ubbcluj.ro/rel-int/afis_univ_partenere_2009-2010_reduse.pdf).
Practical Training	Practical training is planed for the 2 nd and 4 th semester, each student having to reach 90 hours of tranship for the intended 3 weeks.
Final Examinations	Research thesis
Gained Abilities and Skills	The graduates of this specialization obtain the title of specialist in International Relations and European Studies. This title allows them: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • to obtain competences and abilities to write, evaluate and ensure the management of European programmes and of different financing, including international one; • to create specialized paper works and to transmit them to the network of local, national, European and international institutions, as the case may be; • to gather, analyse and interpret quantitative and qualitative data and information, from different comparative sources, necessary for the assurance of the decisional support within the European affairs; • to ground business or sectorial plans, specific plans and programmes for the procedures of accomplishment and also the identification and application of the correction measures necessary for the assurance of a good functioning of enterprises, institutions, companies, NGOs, etc. where they will be employed;

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • to take over economic-juridical programmatic components, communication - negotiation components, to organize and consolidate the data bases particularized to the domain of sub regional and regional cooperation; • to administer the necessary relations with the European Commission Delegation, Regional Development Agencies, and other structures involved; • to carry on teaching and research activities in the integration domain (those that graduate the pedagogical modulus).
Job Placement, Potential Field of Professional Activity	Specialist in International Relations and European Studies with abilities in the domain of communication, of European administration, of socio – humanities. In this last case we take into account activities in the pre-academic and academic domain, but also in the research of the integration processes that require interdisciplinary approaches; <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Specialist or experts within the Departments of European Integration (organised according to the legislation of 1995) at the level of Local Governments, Local Councils, Prefect’s Offices, District Councils, Ministries, Agencies, but also of some similar institutions at the level of the European Union. • Specialist within the local, national, European level public institutions or in different international institutions for: programmes administration, policies management, evaluation and economic-juridical audit, consultancy; • Teacher/Professor in subjects such as: socio-humanities integration, regional development, history of Europe, etc. • Consultant or experts within NGOs, multinational companies, national and European institutions, within different services and compartments, especially those that deal with integration processes, communication, international relations management; • Trainer within the programs of continuous training that aim at processes of European integration or at the relation between Romania and other international institutions; • Consultant in the domain of European affairs.